

TWO WATERS

Salt River Indian Reservation, Arizona

*Winner of the 2009 PCI Design Award
Best Public/Institutional Building*

- Architectural precast concrete cladding panels with a varied reveal pattern, integral color, and a sandblast finish were utilized to convey a regional character.
- The precast wall panels were erected 5° from vertical to resemble a traditional handmade battered structure.
- Architectural precast concrete met the structural, budgetary, sustainability, and aesthetic goals of the project owners.
