

ROSEMARY BEACH PAVILION

Rosemary Beach, Florida

- Designed for a high end beach community as a concert amphitheater and pool pavilion, the architect wanted a building that would blend with the community and withstand the harsh environment of the Gulf Coast. He chose hollowcore.
- Coreslab hollowcore is highly adaptive and easy to erect with minimum impact on the existing surrounding community.

Architect: DAG + McWorter

Engineer: Anderson Engineers

General Contractor: Lord & Sons
